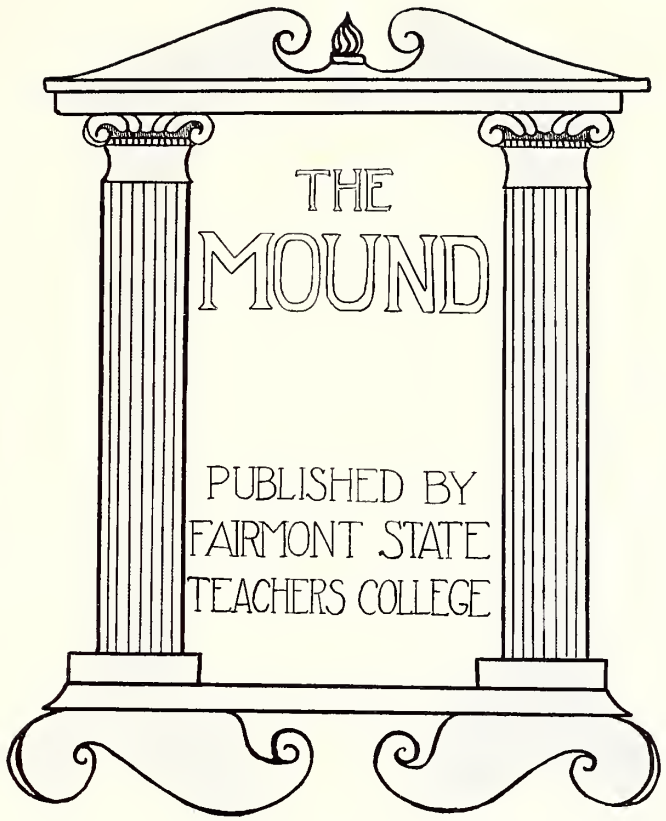
EX LIBRIS



THE
PUBLISHED BY
FAIRMONT STATE
TEACHERS COLLEGE

Foreword

After a year's absence, we are very happy to have been able, with the help of the administration and the student body of Fairmont State Teachers College, to again publish the Mound, which we believe is a vital part of this college.

Although the time allotted in assembling this publication has been limited, we believe that a representative book has been compiled, and that it will do its part in recalling to each one of us the many happy hours spent on Fairmont State Teachers College Campus.

To the Memory of

Dr. I. F. Boughter

"That life is long
which answers life's great end."—Young.

IN terms of years Dr. Isaac Fegley Boughter lived a short while, but his influence on all those whom he came in contact, will live to immortality.

Since the untimely and tragic death of this brilliant teacher, profound thinker, and sympathetic friend of Fairmont State Teachers College students, he has been missed at every important occasion. Every student who knew him remembers his ready wit, his keen perception, and his undauntable enthusiasm. And every student who was in school knew Dr. Boughter. He was more than head of a department. He was a guide to all students.

When the first "thuse" of the current school term took place last fall the audience was perplexed and bewildered at the realization of the loss of his presence. His annual address to the student body on this occasion was the keynote of the assemblage.

Dr. Boughter came to this institution from Salem College where he served as professor of history. He soon became head of the social science department and in this capacity assisted the students with their problems, both scholastic and personal.

One of Dr. Boughter's greatest assets was his uncanny ability to understand the students and their problems. Since this is so, it is easy to see that Dr. Boughter was indeed a beloved teacher. So, it is with memories of his greatness still fresh in our minds, that we, the class of 1935, dedicate this, the memory-book of our college careers, to our former friend and adviser, Isaac Fegley Boughter.

Dr. J. F. Boughter

There's nothing ill can dwell in such a temple;
If the ill spirit have so fair a house,
Good things will strive to dwell with it.

—Shakespeare: Tempest.

Senior College Class

FOUR years have gone by and another class of Fairmont State Teachers College must bid farewell to its alma mater, which it has learned to love and cherish. Four years of experience which can never be lived over; four years of study and unforgettable memories. Many are leaving joyously, but with a certain tinge of regret; many will come back to the campus on short visits, but will never come back to enjoy its intimacies, such as have been enjoyed during the four years as a student.

Eighty-three college seniors leave in June ending one phase of life, only to start into a new one. May the four years spent in obtaining knowledge and experience be of greatest use to you in whatever profession or occupation you may enter. May Fairmont State Teachers College always point to you with pride and be happy to call you her son.

This Senior Class has been outstanding and may its efforts be not wasted. This class, we hope, is one which may be followed and patterned after by others.

The class leaves, sincerely hoping the spirit and tradition of Fairmont State Teachers College will always remain with you wherever you may go, or whatever you may do. Best wishes, graduates, for success and other good things in life which you so richly deserve.

Junior College Class

THE class of '36 brings to an end its third year of success of college campus activities. Realizing that the end of our journey is near the class has gripped tightly the reins for the final dash.

During the past three years the class has excelled in many fields of activity. Athletics, dramatics and social functions have had the full support of the class. Always playing a leading role in social activities on the campus, this year the class sponsored its most outstanding event, in the form of the Junior Prom which was the highlight of the social season.

So with optimism the Junior Class looks forward to its most distinguished year upon the campus, in which it hopes to raise the standards and ideals of Fairmont State College.

Senior Normal Class

AFTER two years of hard work, the members of the Senior Normal Class of 1935 will go forth into various parts of the state to seek positions as teachers. We are confident that those who succeeded in acquiring positions will be ready to meet the problems that the teaching profession must confront. Some, of course, will not acquire positions as teachers. Of these, some will work at other jobs, and still others will return to school.

The Senior Normal Class is one of an outstanding class and has been unusually active in the various phases of college life.

Best wishes, future teachers, and may you be successful!

JASPER COLEBANK

Athletic Director, Head Coach

Coach Colebank, after one year's absence from actively leading the Fighting Teacher football team due to illness, returned this year and led them to the West Virginia Conference title. Jasper has been at the head of the athletic department of Fairmont State Teachers College since 1924, coaching the basketball, baseball and tennis teams as well as the gridders.

HARRY McCOY, Captain

"Tim" as he is known on the campus is a native of West Newton, Pennsylvania and followed in the footsteps of his older brother, who shined in athletics while attending the local college. Harry led the Fighting Teachers to their first state title and played a consistent, heady game all through the season. He was an excellent defensive man and a good pass receiver. Besides shining in athletics he was also an excellent student.

ROBERT HUCHINSON

Manager

"Bob" did his share to the success of the gridders by administering to the wants of the players. He did an excellent job which is no small undertaking for any student.

MYERS, Quarterback

"Bill" in his second year as a Fighting Teacher gridder played in all eight games and was on the bench less than two minutes during the whole season. His direction of the offensive was above criticism at all times.

FLEMING, Tackle

Sterling finally captured a starting berth after two years of effort and played a good game at all times. Handling his weight well he could be depended upon to break up the blockers at all times.

SAMPSON, Halfback

Jimmy played his second year as a regular, being the speed merchant of the squad. Although small in stature, he was a constant threat at all times and was often away for long gains.

The Season in Review

DESPITE two close setbacks in the eight game schedule Fairmont State Teachers College won the state Intercollegiate title with five wins and no losses. The two setbacks, by California State Teachers College and Bethany College did not count in the official collegiate standings in the state.

Head Coach Jasper Colebank, back at the guiding reins after a year's absence due to illness, and his capable assistant Frank Ice were forced to build practically a whole new forward wall. Only Captain Harry McCoy was available from the 1933 gridiron eleven. The local mentors, however were able to spend much time on the front line because of experienced backfield men, who needed little coaching.

FAIRMONT 6, WEST LIBERTY 0

The opening game, played September 29 with Joe Bartell's West Liberty outfit was won by the close score of 6 to 0. Rosier Field was a sea of mud and rain which fell all through the game hampered the play of both teams. The inclement weather kept the crowd down to small proportions.

Sampson scored the only touchdown of the game in the second quarter after Jenkins had placed the ball on the three-yard marker.

NAPOLILLO, Guard

"Pee-Pee," after three years of hard work without success, trying to make a backfield berth decided to try his luck at a guard position and fitted in to the new position perfectly. The midget from Rivesville played in every game.

JENKINS, Fullback

Hugh was the best defensive fullback in this section until forced to retire when he received a neck injury in the Shepherd game. Not large, he had the uncanny ability to always be in the road of the opposing ball carrier. His absence will be a hard position to fill next season.

ROSS, Guard

George, although, he weighs over 200 pounds, handled his guard position with satisfaction the whole season. He has two more seasons to display his wares before Fairmont college enthusiasts.

FAIRMONT 26, RIO GRANDE 0

The following Friday Rio Grande College of Ohio invaded Rosier Field in quest of the Fighting Teachers' scalp. However, the Ohions were no match and were beaten easily to the tune of 26 to 0.

Touchdowns were made by Wilson, Jenkins, Jones and Myers.

FAIRMONT 19, GLENVILLE 0

For their third game of the season, the Fighting Teachers met Glenville State Teachers at Glenville, Friday October 13. The local teachers with several new plays found the Gilmer county boys rather easy to handle, downing them by the count of 19 to 0.

The first two touchdowns were garnered when Jimmy Sampson and Buzzy Fultz took aerials from Squib Wilson for the six-pointers. Billy Myers scored again in the final quarter when he raced off tackle for five yards.

Fairmont had the Glenville offense completely bottled up, failing to let Coach Rohrbaugh's boys past the 30-yard stripe.

CALIFORNIA 7, FAIRMONT 0

In a rude jolt the following Saturday the Fighting Teachers met their first defeat of the season at California, Pa. Playing before a Dad's Day crowd of 1,500 fans the California Teachers made the game a stalemate until the closing quarter.

The game was decided in the closing minutes when the Pennsylvanians threw two aerial bombs that carried the oval 62 yards and victory.

WILSON, Halfback

"Squib" was the triple threat of the backfield. Besides doing all the passing and punting he was called upon to carry the ball and was equally impressive in that capacity. He was honored by being picked on the All West Virginia Conference team.

BEATTY, Center

Carl snagged the center berth at the start of the season and was a stalwart at that position all season. He was a good blocker on the defense and was adept at playing the defensive center position.

FULTZ, End

Buzzy played a good consistent game at end all season. Well built for end playing he handled himself well and was tough to take out by blockers.

FAIRMONT 20, SHEPHERD 0

The Fighting Teachers got their third conference win the following week at Shepherdstown when they beat the Shepherd Rams 20 to 0. The 1,000 Homecoming Day fans saw a real struggle until the closing minutes of the last quarter.

After being thwarted on at least two occasions during the first half, Billy Myers finally scored on a pass from Squib Wilson to gain a 6-0 edge at half-time.

Wilson got two more touchdowns in the fourth quarter. He raced over center for a six-pointer and repeated the act a few minutes later by intercepting a Ram pass and running 15 yards for another touchdown. Jimmy Sampson, although failing to score was away for several long gallops. Big Bob Jones was outstanding on the defense for Fairmont.

FAIRMONT 13, SALEM 7

The Fighting Teachers played their best game of the year the following Friday in defeating the Salem Tigers in the annual Dad's Day attraction at Rosier Field. Without the services of Hugh Jenkins who was injured in the Shepherd game and two linemen unable to start the game, it was thought that Fairmont would be easy for the Ten Milers. However, the local linemen presented a stone wall defense and the Fighting Teacher aerial attack was clicking.

BERDINE, Tackle

Stanley Berdine, after several seasons, decided to try his hand at football and made Coach Colebank a valuable reserve tackle. He was big and handled his duties faithfully when called upon to do so.

FOLEY, End

"Buck," as he is familiarly known finally snagged a starting berth on the Fighting Teacher team after two years of effort. He is fast, a good blocker and an excellent receiver of passes.

JONES, Tackle

"Bob" because of his brilliant work at left tackle the past season was elected to lead the 1935 Fighting Teacher gridiron warriors. For the past three seasons he has been in practically every game.

In the second quarter after taking possession of the ball on their own 48, the Fighting Teachers in five plays had a touchdown. Four passes and a running play did the trick. A 13-yard pass from Wilson to Buck Foley was responsible for the second touchdown. Salem scored from the one-yard line when the umpire ruled that Fairmont was interfering with a pass receiver.

FAIRMONT 11, POTOMAC STATE 9

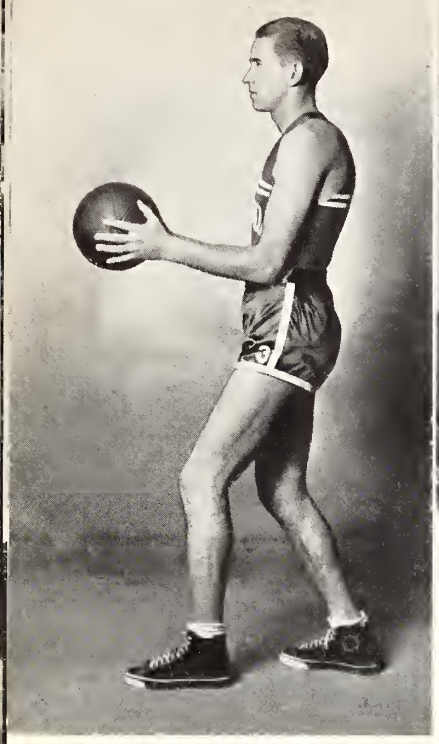
The following Saturday, November 10, the Fighting Teachers were in Keyser to meet the Potomac State gridders. They managed to eke out a win by two points after fighting off Potomac threats throughout the second half.

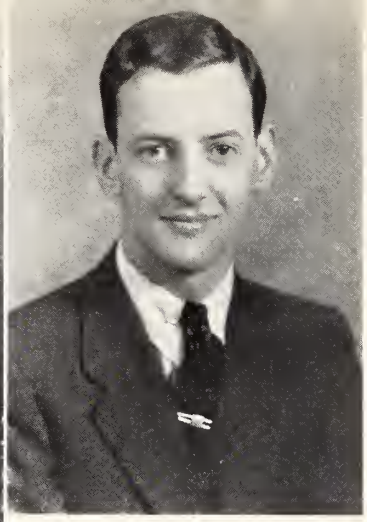
Fairmont scored in the first half when Jimmy Sampson caught one of Wilson's passes. The locals also scored two safeties in the first half. The Potomac touchdown came also in the first half with Clark scoring.

With this win Fairmont captured the state title.

BETHANY 14, FAIRMONT 12

Showing every evidence of the strenuous pace set during the season, the Fighting Teachers were beaten in the final game of th season at Rosier Field by Bethany. Fairmont's defense crumpled with the consistent pounding of the Bison backs. After getting a touchdown lead, Bethany came back to go in the lead, 7 to 6. Fairmont again scored and led 12-7 only to see the game slide away 14 to 12. Hauner, a substitute end was the difference in the victory. He kicked both the extra points.



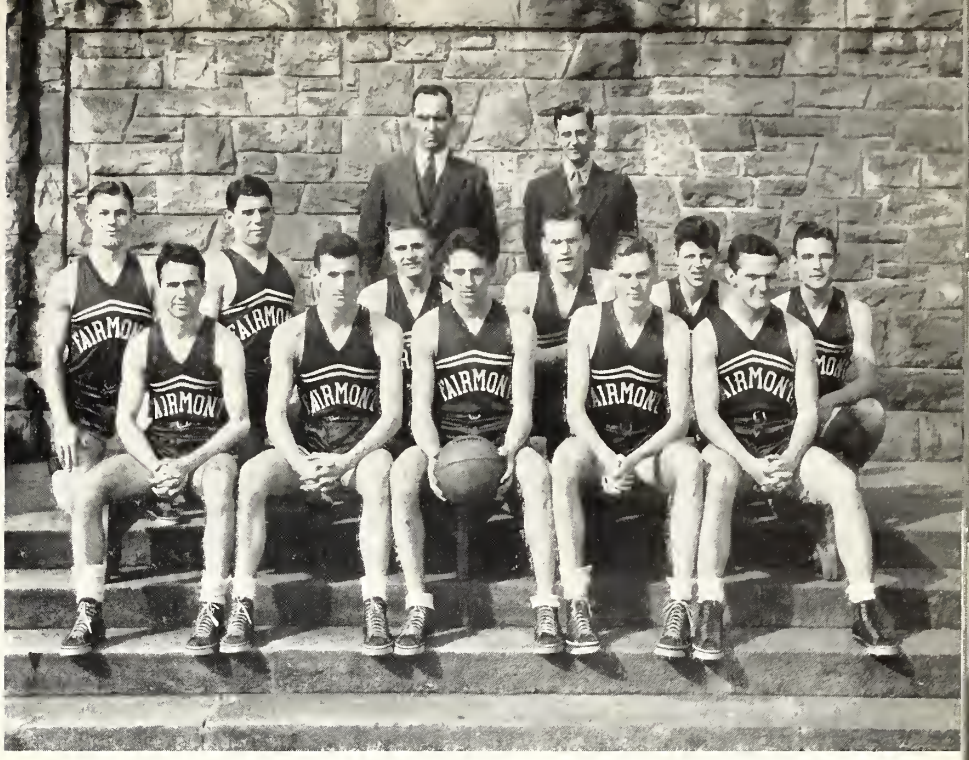


WILFORD WILSON, Captain

"Squib" led the Fighting Teachers on the basketball court for the second year in succession after sharing co-captain honors with Reeves Mason during the 1934 season. "Squib" played all three positions during his collegiate career and was distinctly an asset in either of the three. In his sophomore year, he jumped center, and played a guard position last year only to be shifted to forward this year by Coach Colebank in an effort to bring the local team out of a losing streak. He also played football and was picked at a halfback position on the All West Virginia Conference team. "Squib" is also used by Coach Colebank as a sort of utility man on the baseball team. Besides the athletic honors bestowed upon him, he was honored by being picked one of the four outstanding seniors.

FRANK EVANS, Manager

Frank administered to the wants of the basketeers after serving an apprenticeship on the football team. Needless to say he handled the job efficiently.



1935 Basketball Squad

SNODERLY, Guard

Hard luck has pursued June all through his collegiate career on the basketball court. In his last season the Farmington flash was forced out by an injury.

FULTZ, Guard

Buzzy, a freshman, was a regular from the start of the season. He was the best shot on the team and opponents were very careful to prevent him from getting set shots.

BYER, Forward

George, a sophomore played his first year for the local school. Fast and of stocky build he was a good floor man and saw much service during the season.

SAMPSON, Forward

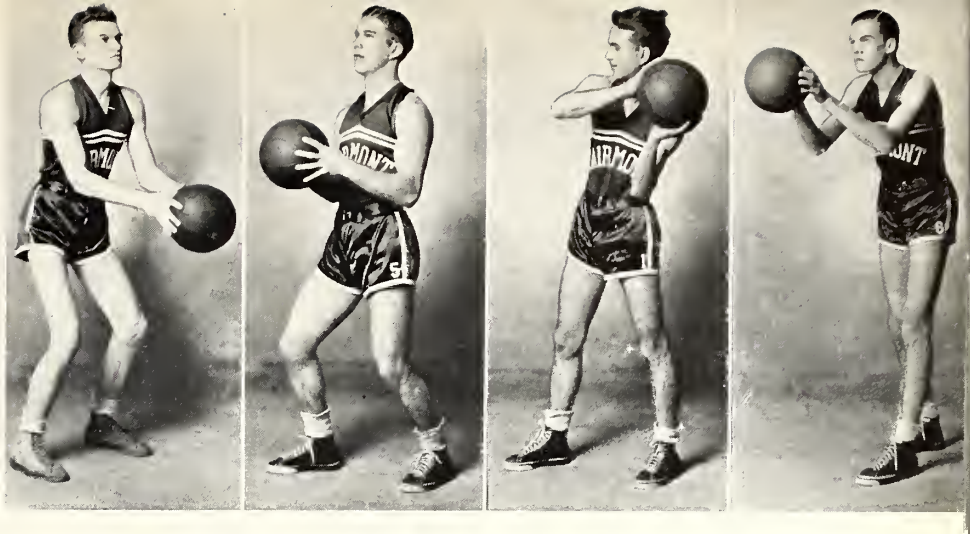
Jimmy, although a sophomore failed to play basketball during his freshman year. This year he made Coach Colebank a valuable reserve forward.

The Season In Review

WITH only two regulars from the 1933-34 basketball team available, Coach Jasper Colebank did much experimenting in the quest of a winning floor combination but with indifferent success. The Fighting Teachers were able to win only six games out of a 21 game schedule.

The season was opened January 5, when Salem visited the local gymnasium and won 42 to 34. Salem with a veteran, rangy bunch of sharpshooters had things well in hand all the way. In their second start of the season Fairmont took a fall at the hands of Glenville in the Gilmer County seat, being beaten 49 to 45 in a free scoring battle that was a thriller all the way.

In their third start, the local basketeers nosed out the California State Teachers College five on the local floor 38-37 for their first win. Duvall, substitute forward pitched a foul in the closing seconds for the winning mar-



JUDY, Center

George made good in his first year as a member of the Fighting Teachers and during the latter part of the season was good enough to start several contests.

SNYDER, Guard

Verl, also another first year man made good in his first year on the squad. Coach Colebank called on him quite often during the season. The college will have his services next year.

ZUNDELL, Forward

George, after three years of being a substitute came through with flying colors and snagged a regular berth for the season. Although small for a college player he made up for the difference with plenty of fight.

KERNS, Center

Glenn, during the past campaign served his second year as varsity center for the Fighting Teachers. He was a much improved ball player, having picked up several pounds in weight that enabled him to mix it.

gin. Morris Harvey was the second victim of the local teachers in a free scoring affair. The score ending 52 to 41.

After the two wins, the Fighting Teachers went into a losing streak that reached six games. California, Waynesburg, Glenville, West Liberty, Bethany and Marshall got decisions. Glenville and Marshall won their games on the local floor. Marshall eked out in the closing minutes after the Fighting Teachers had led all the way.

Fairmont won its third game when they beat Joe Bartell's West Liberty team, 40-36 in a return engagement at the local gymnasium. They repeated the act in the annual Homecoming game with West Virginia Wesleyan. The score was 36-34.

In a three day road trip the following week, Marshall and Morris Harvey won decisions over the Fighting Teachers while the locals won the final contest from Concord, 49-27.

In one of their best games of the season, Davis-Elkins nosed out Fairmont at Elkins 38 to 35.

Returning home Concord suffered their second successive defeat at the hands of the Fighting Teachers when the proteges of Jasper Colebank won out 43-39.

Salem, Bethany, West Virginia Wesleyan, and Davis-Elkins earned decisions over the Fighting Teachers in the final games of the season. Wesleyan nosed out a 40 to 39 win at Buckhannon.

Leading scorers on the squad were Captain "Squib" Wilson with 198 points; Zundell, 149; Fultz, 123, and Kerns 110 points.

Baseball

With several regulars from the 1933 diamond squad available for the 1934 team, Coach Jasper Colebank put a strong baseball team on the diamond. They were beaten only four times in a 15-game schedule.

June Snoderly and Everett Fox were forced to do the bulk of the pitching due to the fact that Roger Santee, the ace of the 1933 hurling staff was out of school because of illness. Although both were somewhat inexperienced, under patient coaching and able receiving by Johnny Parks they got better as the season progressed. "Squib" Wilson also saw some mound service.

The infield which included Huber at first, Swiger at second, Kundratik at short stop and Joyce at third presented a good defense and two heavy hitters in Huber and Swiger.

The outfield was well taken care of with Butch Hornyak in left, Charlie Jones in center and his brother Bob in rightfield. All three were good hitters.

Tennis

The 1934 tennis team under the tutelage of Dr. C. A. Lindley had one of the most successful seasons that the netsters have enjoyed since the sport was initiated as a competitive sport. The local racqueters were beaten only twice in eight matches. California State Teachers College handed the local racquet weilders both the setbacks.

Two victories each were gained over West Virginia Wesleyan, Salem and the Glenville State Teachers.

Coach Lindley was forced to depend upon his first three men, Brown, Felty and Sharp in the doubles as well as in the singles for the winning margins. The other three singles positions were made up of somewhat inexperienced material.

Hopes for a winning 1935 team are darkened somewhat by the fact that Captain Brown, Felty and Sharp all graduated last spring.

1935 Intra-murals

DURING the recent years the Student Athletic Council has organized an Intra-mural basketball league for the benefit of those students who could not take part in varsity basketball.

The league was divided into two different halves. The first half was taken by the Councilmen, and the second half was taken by the Tau Beta Iota social fraternity. The playoff was made after the season with the Tau Beta Iota taking the first two games from the Councilmen to win the 1935 Intra-mural championship.

The first half was composed of Moral Hall, Lindley's, Tau Beta Iota, Sigma Tau Gamma, Omicron Pi, Red Rats, Rovers, Non-Frats, and the Councilmen.

The second half was composed of Moral Hall, Lindley's, Tau Beta Iota, Sigma Tau Gamma, Omicron Pi, Councilmen, Non-Frats, and the Bears who took the places of the Red Rats, and the Rovers.

Wayne Swiger, of the Councilmen, and Eugene Stalnaker, Moral Hall star, walked off with the scoring honors. Swiger having scored the most points in the league for the season, and Stalnaker having scored the most points in one game. Swiger scored 100 points and Stalnaker scored 24 points in a single combat.

The Intra-murals was wholly a success. The Council awarded medals to various outstanding players of the league.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Government

ORGANIZED student activities play an important part in the development of the college youth. They encourage initiative, develop self control, promote leadership, and offer an opportunity for the expression and development of social intelligence.

Because of the demand for centralized control of student activities, arising from the growth of the student body and the increase in the number of student organizations, student government was inaugurated on the campus November 7, 1907 under the supervision of Dr. C. J. C. Bennett, President of the institution at that time.

The few years that mark the age of student government in our institution have witnessed a growing efficiency in its functioning, a greater harmony and closer cooperation in faculty-student associations, a pleasing development in the social attitudes of the students, a higher degree of self-sufficiency, and a manifestation of authoritative interest.

Untimely problems arising within the student body, which otherwise would have to be settled by administrative authority, are quickly settled and disposed of by the student government. Possibilities of unified action are conceived by centralized control.

The organization of student government has endeavored to prove by its existence its indispensibility to the progress of educational privileges. It is our earnest desire to develop our governmental facilities to the greatest degree of efficiency and cooperation, for, ever upward is the trend of evolution.

THE Inter-Fraternity Council is a group consisting of one member from each of the several social fraternities and sororities on the campus. The Council has its own constitution and has full power and authority over fraternal affairs.

The annual Pan-Hellenic dance was held in the Armory December 12, 1934, featuring Eddie Weitz and his orchestra. Ellsworth Ressegger was general chairman of the affair.

A second Pan-Hellenic dance was held in the Elk's Hall March 15, 1935, featuring Jack Beatty's orchestra. Only members of Greek letter organizations were invited to attend.

BETA Omega Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society in education, was established on the campus of Fairmont State Teachers College in 1931, with twenty charter members .

The function of the organization is stated as follows from the constitution of the society: "The purpose of Kappa Delta Pi shall be to encourage in its members a higher degree of devotion to social service by (1) fostering high intellectual and personal standards during the period of preparation for teaching and (2) recognizing outstanding service in the field of education.

"To this end it shall invite to membership such as exhibit worthy educational ideals, sound scholarship, and adequate personal qualifications. It shall endeavor to develop a high degree of professional fellowship among its members and shall foster professional growth by recognizing achievement in educational work.

THE Fairmont College chapter of Alpha Psi Omega enjoys the distinction of being the original cast in the major college dramatic fraternity of this country. Initiated with the chartering of the Alpha cast at this college on August 25, 1925, through the efforts of Dr. Paul F. Opp, founder of the movement, the fraternity has grown to include 120 casts, among which many of our most noted colleges are represented.

Alpha Psi Omega is purely honorary in character, and is designed to reward students interested in the drama for noteworthy achievement in college dramatic activities. All work contingent to production is recognized along with a definitely stated amount of acting points; thus the fraternity is able to bestow its reward upon a representative group of dramatic workers.

SINCE Omicron Pi Fraternity was founded, shortly after the beginning of the year 1927, it has particularly strived for attainment in fellowship and scholarship. Today, the Fraternity stands as an example, en masse, of these two ideals. In no other group on the campus is there a greater fraternal spirit than that which has survived in Omicron Pi through the past years of economic strife. The Fraternity is proud, not vain, in pointing out its record for scholarship to all observers.

Since its recognition by the Student Council, January 10, 1928, the activities of the group have not been limited solely to scholarly interests. The Fraternity has prospered in its participation in extra-curricular work, and in upholding ideals of loyalty, honor, and good will among other campus associates.

THE Gamma Chi Chi sorority was organized on February 27, 1926, and was the first sorority on the campus. There were six charter members. At first membership was limited to Morrow Hall girls, but later it was decided to consider other girls on the campus.

We have a membership of 175 including alumnae and actives.

Our aim has been to assist the college in every way possible. We started in 1928 by helping the faculty with registration.

Traditional events which are held each year are: Fall Tea for the faculty and sorority members, Winter Formal, Founder's Day Banquet, Minstrel, Mother-Daughter Banquet, Spring Formal and Farewell Banquet.

FOUNDED in November, 1925, by a group of young men who thought there was an ever increasing need for fraternal organizations on our campus, the T. B. I. Fraternity became a reality. Objectives of the fraternity were to promote better college spirit and scholastic achievements.

To gain the ranks of the Fraternity is not easy; one must first prove outstanding ability in some line of extra-curricular activity; he must set a high scholastic standard; and, above all, he must be a person of unquestionable character.

The social events are always looked forward to by the whole student body. When worthwhile things are done on the campus members of this Fraternity are always connected with it in some way.

THE Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority made its appearance on the college campus in May, 1930, when the local Tau Tau Tau, second oldest sorority, became nationally affiliated with the oldest known national educational sorority. Sigma Sigma Sigma was founded in Farmville, Va., in 1908 and has to date thirty alumnae chapters. The aims of the sorority are to establish among its members a perpetual bond of friendship, to develop a strong womanly character and to impress them with the high standards of the teaching profession.

This group believes that only through friendship and fellowship can a truly democratic spirit be developed and is attempting to live up to this ideal by extending an offer of friendship and co-operation to all campus organizations.

The Band History

IT was back in the fall of 1932 when Piere Audin was added to the faculty as director of music and band master. Around a nucleus of a few interested students and three horns, which the school had purchased, the embryonic band had its start. From the beginning active interest was shown in the new band; under the musical direction of Mr. Audin and military supervision of Ed Carrol, president of the student body at that time. The band made its first appearance in Grafton playing for the Fairmont vs. Potomac State football game, wearing freshmen caps for uniforms.

It was through the efforts and support of President Rosier that the present uniforms were purchased for the band shortly after the Grafton trip. At that time thirty uniforms were purchased at an expenditure of more than nine hundred dollars. Since that time eight new uniforms have been added, five drums, and other incidental equipment so that now the band can justly boast as being the best equipped in the state.

In the fall of 1933 Mr. Glenn Arnett took over leadership of the band and during the past two years the band has made rapid progress. As a musical organization the band has gained state wide recognition. The band is counted as one of the school's greatest assets in bringing the attention of Fairmont State Teachers College to the people of West Virginia as well as neighboring states and schools.

Each year two girl sponsors are selected who march with the band in all parades. These girls are selected from the junior and senior classes and it is considered one of the highest honors a girl can receive.

No history of the band would be complete without mentioning one of the most loyal and staunchest friends of the band, Miss Blanche Price, who has advised, helped and supported the band in all of its undertakings.

THE 1933-34 Columns enjoyed a highly successful year under the editorship of Mildred Wright. Miss Wright won first place and the Jim Clendennin Cup in the contest sponsored by the West Virginia Intercollegiate Press association to determine the best editorial written during the school year. Incidentally, the editorial was written against publication of a Mound in 1934.

In the 1934 state contest The Columns won second place in make-up and news writing. The Columns attained All-American Honor rating in the judging sponsored by the National Scholastic Press association. This is the highest ranking given.

The 1934-35 Columns is yet to be judged by the state and national authorities as The Mound goes to press. A note-worthy achievement of the year was the publication of the first eight page Columns ever to appear on the campus. It was published as a special tribute to the first West Virginia Inter-collegiate Basketball tournament held in Fairmont.

Once There Was a Beggar

Contest Winners

THE year 1935 was a red-letter year in the dramatic history of Fairmont College. Every show was a huge success, and by no means the least of these successes was the one-act play "Once There Was a Beggar," by Richard Parrish, local playwright; for it was the Parrish show that won first place and a handsome silver loving cup at the West Virginia Intercollegiate Play Contest at Huntington.

This is the third time since the history of the contest that a Fairmont cast has won first place, and by the rules of the Speech Association, Fairmont is now entitled to permanent possession of the cup. Furthermore, each time a Fairmont cast has won, it has been with a play written by a local dramatist, and two of the three were written by Mr. Parrish. The third was written by Mrs. E. N. Meredith.

Fairmont's first triumph came in 1931 with Mrs. Meredith's "The Mill Between The Bridges," a tense drama of mountaineer life. The contest was held at Marshall College in Huntington, and the cast included Tom Evans, Jeanne Wilson, and William Lawson.

Fairmont repeated in 1932 with the drama "Spring Fret," by Richard Parrish. The cast for this show included Edward Eardley, June Robey, John McIntyre, and Paul Powers.

This year at Huntington, Fairmont scored a complete success with Parrish's "Once There Was A Beggar," a drama of life in the mountains of Spain. Paul Richmond, Claude Lawson, Philip Kennedy, and Bill Weinberg were in the cast and two of these, Richmond and Lawson, were chosen on the all-state cast. Kennedy and Weinberg were given honorable mention.

Oliver, Oliver

The first play of the Masquers for the season 1934-35 showed to over 150 associate members of the club, besides the general student body. Elizabeth Wrick and Walton Rock carried the leading roles of this sophisticated comedy with such finesse they both won lasting places in the estimation of Masquer audiences.

A brilliant supporting cast introduced some new faces to our stage.

Moonshine and Honeysuckle

This mountaineer comedy of "feudin" and "killin," written by Lula Vollmer author of "Sun Up," provided an excellent foil for the life portrayed in the Masquer's first play of the year Oliver, Oliver and its sophisticated Eastern life.

"Moonshine and Honeysuckle" ran for a number of months as a continued story of life in our mountains over one of our national radio hookups.

It provided a great many opportunities for clever characterizations and the cast held it's audience in a continued state of uproarious laughter through the entire play.

Claude Lawson and Nellie Strickler played the two leading juvenile roles and the leading character roles were played by Max Williamson, Hugh Butcher, William Pflock, and Bonnie Jean McCray.

Death Takes a Holiday

This widely known and beautiful play by Alberto Casella marked the high point of the play season at our college, as indeed it did for the city, judging by the press notices and editorials it received in the local newspapers.

"Orchids" were liberally distributed to the entire cast; especially to Ike Brackett, Mary Moore Miller and William Lawson, veteran of many Masquer casts in former years, who returned from his arduous duties as a teacher in one of our county schools to play the title role of "Death."

The local play reviewers and critics were also generous in their praise of the direction of L. A. Wallman and the beautiful scenery for the production designed and executed by Irving Smith who, in this play, climaxed his four years of effective scenic construction with probably the most beautiful set this stage has as yet exhibited. William Pflock returned to generously contribute his talents in painting the scenery.

On With The Show

By Henry Vanderholt

SOPHISTICATED comedy, mountaineer melodrama, poetic fantasy and modern symbolism were among the constituent elements of the varied group of Masquer plays offered this season. Truly, the general survey of ours which follows offers a golden opportunity for the full use of the trite vaudevillian expression, "from the ridiculous to the sublime."

Last fall Director Wallman's first offering was "Oliver, Oliver," Paul Osborne's play of sparkling facetiousness and delightful farce. A sort of "Hay Fever" on the American plan, this piece approaches the giddy qualities of the same author's "Vinegar Tree." "Oliver, Oliver," however, is built upon a more conventional outline, and even contains a dash of serious romance. The characters may not always be believable, but they are continually amusing.

Walton Rock contributed an outstanding performance as the futile Oliver, Oliver, idler and dilettante, and Elizabeth Wrick as the illogical, stormy-minded Constance Oakshot established herself as the Masquers' foremost comedienne.

Feud and romance make up the theme of "Moonshine and Honeysuckle," the season's next occupant of the college stage. A mountaineer story, it is thoroughly in the Lula Vollmer style of melodrama, with a surplus of humorous complications. More or less realistic backwoods figures are intermixed with obviously stock characters, and the result is quite entertaining.

The third major production, which consisted of that unusual comedy, "Death Takes a Holliday," attained a huge financial as well as an artistic success. The "S. R. O." sign was hung above the college boxoffice for the first time in many years.

"Death Takes a Holliday" is not a play for the ages, nor is it intended as such. Its main attribute is the beautiful smoothly-flowing dialogue complementing its fantasy, and this feature was utilized to an adequate proportion by the Masquer cast. Especially outstanding were William Lawson in the title role and Mary Moore Miller in the feminine part opposite him.

The last Masquer venture this spring, (it is still in the rehearsal stage as these lines are being written), was "They Stand There Waiting," a new play by Richard Parrish. A masterly combination of realism and symbolism, this magnificantly conceived and brilliantly executed work presents perhaps more difficulties than anything ever attempted by the Masquers. The play itself, while mainly stimulating to a lover of literary playwriting, nevertheless contains enough surface drama to win over almost any audience. "They Stand There Waiting" should go far in the world of the theatre.

We are finished . . . A successful Masquer season belongs to the ages . . .

Costly thy habit as thy purse can buy,
But not expressed in fancy; rich, not gaudy;
For the apparel oft proclaims the man.

—Shakespeare: Hamlet, Act. 1, Scene 3.

This Collegiate Hoi Polloi

BY the appearance of such graphic displays of the foregoing pages one might come to such a definite conclusion that this volume of the Mound, college annual (task book for the editorial staff) of Fairmont State College — Fairmont is a college for teachers — students just attend. Arriving at this conclusion we might be brazen enough to wager the shirt from someone's back that in review of the past events the fall term, as we have reason to believe, opened sometime between the first of September and the last day of January or thereabouts.

Soon the college wits and halfwits went into an editorial huddle to prepare the first edition of the twenty-fifth volume of the college blowhard or Columns. The initial blah informed our student body that the enrollment hit a new high, Amalgamated Tootpicks and Tweezers, A. T. & T. closed at 4:15 below freezing.

Oct. 5.—Glenn Arnett, Mickey Bryan, and Gene "Shortcut" Rogers this day did take Ye Maroone and White Bande (call for Philip Morris) to Elkins for the Mountain State Forest Festival. Their feminine accompaniment was Nellie Strickler and Betty Ross.

The college War Drum of October Dozen says that the culinary become versatile as the headline denotes—Cook Prepares Latin Program.

About Oct. 16—Georgie Porgie Judy was called upon to lead the Freshmen. With the bases loaded with three wins Jasper and his Fighting Professors hope to trounce California. Henry Vanderholt and Will Rogers are not on speaking terms.

By November 2 we decide to have a Dad's Day celebration. Campus has a hard day. So does dad. After taking one defeat the boys stomp all over Salem. The day's celebration was publicized in the Pittsburgh Press. Wrick and Rock begin Oliver, Oliver. Vanderholt and Will Rogers still at odds.

Miss Blanche Price begins to pester us about tuition fees. tch, tch.

Prospective student for 1954 is found as announcement appears of the arrival of Haddon Rhodes Junior.

James Cooper establishes quarters at the Candy Counter. Genial Jimmy is prone to tell all the lassies how deevine they look. Flatterer.

Jan. 21—Crape placed over door. Exams began.

Jan. 29—A three-hour course in Nicotine began here under the tutelage of Virginia Jane and others. Prerequisite, one pack of fags.

Near Feb. 15—Our debating youngsters with Coach Chapman went to Washington, called on the president who was out to lunch, had their picture taken and returned home.

Feb. 16—Every day in every way we're getting better and better. Honor roll became increased. More students find time to study.

Teachers bow to Morris Harvey and H. V. and W. R. remain quite incompatible as to agreement on the latter's acting ability.

Feb. 21—Weather. (We don't remember). The Awful Sighs or Alpha Psi Omegas tangled with spaghetti. Not one accidental lynching occurred.

March first. In with the duns and out like a light. Nevertheless we find that it is March. Jack Kerns becomes the initial Grand Bowl of Rosta Biff of the Grik Club. One hundred percent attendance at Nicotine 234¼ which meets now and then between 9:00 and 4:00.

Few days later. Dick Parrish's "Once There Was a Beggar" brings home the histrionic bacon.

Harry "Funnel" Weinberg, Paul Summers and Bill Glenn display what the masculine peoples will inhabit this season.

Tough it is. Wesleyan 40. Fairmont 39.

Mar. 22.—Wilson, Wright, Boggess, and Hartley. Hip, hip, hooray! Went to chapel where Mrs. Wood told us humans that we needed health, work, and love.

"Tags for the donations," say the Awful Sighs.

Freshmen take interclass tournament. Low class attendance as students view the first West Virginia Conference Basketball tourney.

Juniors go to the polls and elect their Prom Queen, Betty Crawford.

End of March. Got to class on time. Class didn't meet.

Pi Upsilon Phi put on the feed bag after initiating several young journalists.

Students, have you paid for your Mound?

April 9—Death took a holiday.

Friday, April 12.—Had quite an unexpected holiday. Peaceful strike.

Saturday, April 13—Saturday.

April 14—Sunday, the Sabbath.

April 15, 16, 17—Easter Greetings.

April 23—Seven days until the first of May. Meanwhile the peoples jammed the auditorium at two-bits a head to glim the Gamma minstrel.

April 29—Spring. Warm weather. Biology Lab. Dissected cats. SMELL!!!!

May 1—John Doe found studying in the library. Columns win a few first places for something or other.

May 2—Editor Howes of of the Mound is on our neck for this copy.

Labor is good for a man, bracing up his energies to conquest,
And without it life is dull, the man perceiving himself useless:
For wearily the body groaneth, like a door on rusty hinges.

FAIRMONT STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

This institution is centrally located in a populous section of West Virginia. It is convenient to the homes of a large number of young men and women who are offered superior educational advantages. This college provides the following advantages which should be carefully noted by young people in northern West Virginia seeking higher education:

1. It has a faculty of highly trained and experienced men and women.
2. It has a large library of well selected books.
3. It has a modern well equipped Science Building.
4. It offers unusual opportunities for student activity and participation.
5. It has a rich and educative social life.
6. It provides higher education at moderate cost to the student.
7. Its graduates rank high in the field of teaching and at other institutions.

The cooperation of graduates and students in building up our college is requested. If our graduates believe the above statements they should impress them upon their friends who are choosing a school. For information write to Joseph Rosier, President.
